Red Wines

2013 Avennia Arnaut Syrah Boushey Vineyard Yakima Valley $49.99/$46.69/$42.02

“The 2013 is a rock star. Offering sensational purity in its meaty, dark fruits, olive brine, beef blood, currants and hints of violets, it hits the palate with full-bodied richness, impressive concentration and a great finish, where it shows additional minerality. Coming from the two oldest blocks at Boushey Vineyard, this is a serious, age-worthy Syrah. Drink 2019-2029”

–Wine Advocate, 93-95 points. New item.

2013 Avennia Gravura Red Columbia Valley $35.99/$32.69/$29.42

“Fresh black cherries, black currants, mocha, thyme essence, and leather on the nose. This wine is seamless on the palate, balancing black fruits, graphite, and cigar box with a livening acidity. A blend of 47% Cabernet Sauvignon, 44% Merlot, 9% Cabernet Franc. A delicious blend that is eminently drinkable now, but will cellar for 5-8 or more years. 815 cases produced.”

–Winemaker notes. New item.

2010 Almquist Smitten Nebbiolo Horse Heaven Hills $32.99/$27.99/$25.19

“After several years developing in the bottle, our winemaker is still smitten by its alluring old world perfume and intense aromatics of drying rose petals, violets, sweet spice box and faint caramelized brown sugar. The bright acidity and wonderful midpalate structure make this Pacific Northwest Nebbiolo one to remember. 50 cases produced.” –Winery notes. New item.

2011 Reverdito Barolo $29.99/$21.99/$19.79

Michele Reverdito is what they call a “rising star” winemaker in Barolo. “The best deal in Barolo I’ve ever found. Any fan of Nebbiolo, and really any fan of Italian wine, should not miss out on this. All the character of Barolo is in here—complex aromas of licorice and rose, dark red fruit on the palate. This will be a staple at my house given its ridiculous quality-to-price factor and the fact that I can pop the cork and drink it. Why settle for simple Langhe Nebbiolo when you can drink Barolo any night of the week?”

– northwest-wine.com. It’s back. A sensational Barolo!

2012 Maison Bleue Métis Red Columbia Valley $32.99/19.99/$17.99

“A blend of Syrah (70%), Grenache (25%) and Mourvèdre, this tantalizing wine offers a near endless list of aromatic descriptors, from white pepper to smoked meat, currant, mineral, licorice, coffee and dried herbs, seeming to evolve with each swirl. The palate is layered and rich with plum, pomegranate and lingering dark fruit flavors. It drinks best at a cool 62 degrees.”

–Sean Sullivan, 92 points. New item.

2014 Redhawk Red Columbia Valley $18.99/$13.99/$12.59

“Our popular table wine shows a rich core of stewed plum, blackberry and cassis flavors surrounded by tangy acidity throughout the almost stony finish. (51% Merlot, 34% Petit Verdot, 15% Malbec).” –Winery notes. New vintage.

Shebang! “Ninth Cuvée” Red Blend North Coast California $16.99/$13.39/$12.05

Shebang is a project by Morgan Twain-Peterson, the son of Ravenswood founder Joel Peterson. This is a delicious blend that is spicy and full bodied. It has some serious pedigree. The base for Shebang! comes from 100+ year old vines in the Bedrock Vineyard. A rich blend of Zinfandel (55%) with Carignane, Petite Sirah, Mourvèdre, Alicante Bouchet, Grenache, Syrah, Barbera and a touch of whites for aromatics. New release.

2012 Château Bonnet Rouge Bordeaux $13.99/$9.39/$8.45

White Wines

The finish is juicy and satisfying with refreshing acidity that makes you crave another sip.” –Winemaker notes. New vintage.

–Wine Advocate, 92 points. New item.
